

BASF has worked diligently to equip and educate applicators of Engenia® herbicide with the knowledge to make good application decisions. Our goal is that our customers have the best experience possible when applying Engenia® herbicide. We certainly want to hear from growers if they have questions regarding the use of Engenia® herbicide and we will continue to reinforce the need to read and follow label requirements.

We are here to support our customers and, if requested, can assist in investigating an off-target allegation in an advisory capacity to provide technical support.

We encourage growers and applicators to continue to take advantage of proper applications tools—like our OTAA online module and nozzle program. To date, we have provided more than 600,000 free nozzles to growers, to ensure a successful season. BASF also offers the On Target Application Academy online in the form of a digital training module at www.GrowSmartUniversity.com.
